

SHRM East Carolina University

Interested in a Career in HR?

Our purpose is to facilitate networking and connections to promote the human resource profession and to prepare students for careers and a future in any business field, especially HR!

By being a student member, you gain access to local HR professionals, resources to help with resumes and coursework, job searches, and so much more.

Want to take on a leadership role and build your resume? We have many positions available, you are sure to find one that suits you! Additionally, as a member, you will have the chance join our case competition team and compete at the 2017 SHRM Student Case Competition and Career Summit, the premier student HR conference in the US!
